WEDDINGS

ALCORN—WATSON

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Alcorn announce the engagement of their daughter Mamie to Mr. Roy Cummings Watson, of Williams, Ariz. The wedding will be solemnized on Wednesday, Oct. 26, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Fletcher Bly in Williams, Arizona.

BEAUTIFUL HOME WEDDING OF MISS JESSIE ISBELL AND MR. DOUGLASS SLOAN.

Much interest has been centered around the marriage of Miss Jessie Isbell and Mr. William Douglass Sloan, Jr., which was brilliantly solemnized, in the presence of a large assembly of friends and relatives, on Wednesday evening, October 19, at 9:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Isbell. The ring ceremony was used by the officiating minister, Rev. Keithly, of Dickson, Tenn.

Before the ceremony a musical programme was given by Mrs. Jeff Wall, pianist, Mrs. Herbert Carlen, vocalist, and Estelle Wall, violinist.

The decorations of the reception rooms were lovely, being ferns and a profusion of garden flowers. Used on the mantle were silver vases filled with the effectiveness of the decoration was completed by the soft glow of lighted candles. Through an aisle formed of ferns and ribbon, and which led to the altar, the bride party entered the living room, Messrs Earl and Paul Sloan serving as their brother's best man and groomsmen, entered first, followed by the bride's sister, Miss Floy Isbell, as maid of honor and Miss Emma Doynne Jenkins as a bridesmaid. The bride and groom who entered together were preceded by the ring bearer, Inez Isbell, who carried the ring in a lily. The train was carried by a small cousin of the bride, Emily Sue Stone.

The maid of honor was beautifully gowned in a costume of orchid lace over pink tulle, and Miss Jenkins wore a becoming frock of apricot tulle made bouffant style. Their flowers were arm bouquets of pink roses. The small girls wore dainty white dresses, lace trimmed.

The charming young bride was beautiful in her wedding dress of white duchess satin and lace with pearl trimmings. Her tulle veil was made cap fashion and was fastened to her hair with pearls and orange blossoms and fell with the train. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies.

A reception followed the ceremony. Those receiving with the bride party were, Mr. and Mrs. Isbell and the groom's mother, Mrs. W. D. Sloan. They were assisted by Mrs. Rutledge Smith, Mrs. John H. Whitson and Mrs. Robt. Lowe. Ices were served during the evening by Misses Louise Cox, Rosalind Algood, Beattie Bohannon, Dollie Smith, Virginia Richmond Carlen, Louise Hargis, Kate Isbell and Mabel Broshoar.

After a Southern bridal trip Mr. and Mrs. Sloan will be at home in Birmingham, Ala. Mrs. Sloan wore for traveling a modish suit of bronze with hat to harmonize.

Among the handsome gifts received by the young couple was a chest of silver, given by the groom's parents, and a silver coffee service was the gift of the bride's father and mother.

The out-of-town guests present at the wedding were: Mrs. W. D. Sloan, Messrs. Earle and Paul Sloan, Miss Bertha Rigby, Miss Sarah Beckton, Mr. Paschall Reale, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Stone and Miss Ova Boyd, all of Nashville; Mr. and Mrs. Van Nunnally, Mrs. Stone, Mrs. Lettich, Mrs. J. E. Oliver, and Mrs. Grover Anderson of Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Whitson, of Ky., and Mrs. Albert Smith of Marianna, Ark.

MISS ISBELL HONOREE OF THE TEA

Three to five were the receiving hours for the tea given on Friday afternoon by Misses Louise Cox and Rosalind Algood, at the home of Miss Cox on Washington Ave. Miss Jessie Isbell, a charming bride of the week, was the honoree of the occasion.

Receiving with the hostesses and honoree were: Mrs. J. N. Cox, Mrs. A. Algood, Mrs. J. A. Isbell, Miss Floy Isbell and Miss Emma Doynne Jenkins. Mrs. Hayden Young and Miss Mary Cox assisted them in entertaining and receiving.

The decorations of the entire lower floor of this attractive home were very effective, being ferns, flowers and autumn foliage.

In the dining room, the table from which tea and a salad course were served by Mesdames Walter McClain, W. R. Carlen, Edward Neal and Algood Carlen, had for a cover a square of Madeira embroidery and the central adornment was a Kewpie dressed in a full bridal costume. Assisting in serving were Myra and Reba Isbell, Elsie Young, Mary Ellen Shanks, Eugenia Wilson and Lucile Cameron.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

The Cookeville Music Club will meet on Wednesday afternoon, October 26, at 3 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. C. E. Wilson. Miss Mai Anderson will be chairman of the meeting, and the following programme will be given:

MRS. DARWIN AND MISS JENKINS HOSTESSES OF MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER.

Over one hundred guests enjoyed the hospitality extended them by Mrs. J. Claude Darwin and Miss Emma Doynne Jenkins, when they entertained on Saturday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Darwin, with a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Jessie Isbell, whose marriage to Mr. W. Douglass Sloan, Jr. was an event of Wednesday evening.

Decorations of roses, chrysanthemums and cosmos, carrying out a color scheme of pink and white, were used in the reception rooms. The lovely array of gifts were arranged in a large basket and presented to the bride by Chas. Darwin, Jr., Mildred Darwin and Hazel Jenkins.

In the center of the table, in the dining room, was a crystal vase filled with pink roses surrounded by pink candles in crystal holders. A color motif of pink and white was also featured in the ices and confections, which were served by Mrs. Chas. Darwin, Mrs. Edward Neal, Mrs. Thos. Early, and Mrs. Robt. Lowe. A coterie of pretty school girls assisted in the dining room, they were: Misses Annette Draper, Virginia Carlen, Mary Tom Johnson, Louise Hargis and Clemma Masters.

MISS ISBELL AND MR. SLOAN BRIDAL PARTY ENTERTAINED.

Following the wedding rehearsal Tuesday evening, the members of the Isbell-Sloan bridal party were beautifully entertained by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Isbell at their home on Washington Ave. The guest list included only the attendants and a limited number of friends.

For the occasion the house was attractively decorated in roses, chrysanthemums and other of the season's flowers. A color note of white and green was used in the dining room, large silver baskets filled with white zinnias and the handles tied with bows of white tulle were arranged on the buffet and as a center piece for the table. Coffee served by Mrs. J. Claude Darwin, Mrs. Robert Lowe, Mrs. John H. Whitson, and Mrs. Rutledge Smith. The bride's cake, which was formed in a double heart and was beautifully decorated, was presided over by Mrs. Benton Carlen. The wedding symbols were drawn from the cake by tiny white ribbons, and the souvenirs of the evening were miniature brides.

Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Isbell in receiving and entertaining were Mrs. W. D. Sloan, Mrs. E. W. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Will Wade, and Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Jenkins.

MISS DROMGOOLE GIVES RECITALS AT COOKEVILLE

Miss Will Allen Dromgoole has returned from Cookeville where she went to give an author's dialect recital Friday night at Tennessee Polytechnic Institute, before a large and appreciative audience. Each season the institute arranges for a series of entertainments which affords much pleasure to the student body and friends of the school and Miss Dromgoole's appearance proved a star feature of this series.

The work of this popular Tennessee writer shows perfect mastery of dialect of various types, as well as a sympathetic understanding of human nature and true poetic feeling.

In Miss Dromgoole's Cookeville recital the dialects represented in her selections were that of the street gamins as shown in her little Tennessee classic, "The Heart of Old Hickory," the Negro and the Cracker. A short explanatory talk on the origin of dialect types was an illuminating feature of the program.

Saturday afternoon Miss Dromgoole also gave by request a recital before the world war veterans at the vocational school, which gave the greatest pleasure to her audience.

Miss Dromgoole was the guest of Mrs. Rutledge Smith during her stay in Cookeville and was delightfully entertained while there.—Nashville Banner.

Mrs. R. L. Farley and Mrs. C. C. Fowler have been for a stay of some days in Nashville.
